

The ability to perceive or think differently
is more important than the knowledge gained.

— David Bohm